Coming Home

What does coming home mean to you?

It may mean more if you have been away for some time. And, at this year's Homecoming at Charlotte Heights, I'm thinking about the DeMoss family. After 70 years and through 12 presidential administrations, the family buried the remains of Harold DeMoss in the local cemetery.

Harold DeMoss was a navy air pilot who crashed on the island of Oahu in July of 1945. The DeMoss family had all but lost hope of burying their brother. The parents hoped to bury their son but would never see it happen. The only survivor of Harold's immediate family thought he may not see him come home, either. Imagine the relief of the brother and his family to know this long ordeal has ended. Don't you think coming home means something special to them?

I'm glad you are here with us today. It's a special day as we honor all present and former members.

Thank you for coming home.

In Him,
Josh Barnett

THE HEIGHTS Student Ministry

And be kind to one another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God in Christ forgave you.

-- Ephesians 4:32

One of the hardest things to do is to be kind and forgiving to people, especially when those people have done you wrong. When someone mistreats you, the normal response is to get back at them, to hurt them like they've hurt you, to give them the silent treatment, or to just do something to teach them a lesson. That's what is considered normal.

That's how most people live their lives.

The Bible stands that on its head and tells us, as Christians, to be different. We're challenged to not get back at someone but to forgive them, just like God forgave us. Doing this isn't normal, and it isn't easy, but it's what's right.

So, challenge yourself today to push past what's easy and choose to be kind and forgive others.
