TODAY'S LESSON

Family Time: Intergenerational Faith

By Josh Barnett

2 Timothy 1:3-5 (NKJV)

3 I thank God, whom I serve with a pure conscience, as my forefathers did, as without ceasing I remember you in my prayers night and day, 4 greatly desiring to see you, being mindful of your tears, that I may be filled with joy, 5 when I call to remembrance the genuine faith that is in you, which dwelt first in your grandmother Lois and your mother Eunice, and I am persuaded is in you also.

Family Time: Intergenerational Faith

What is the most incredible legacy you can leave for your children? What about your extended family? Is it money or more stuff? Is it a great name recognized by the community? What about our faith? The friendship of a friend led to the conversion of my grandparents. The friend's name was Dr. E. Claude Gardner, and he served Freed-Hardeman as the 13th president. My grandparents shared their faith with their children. My grandparents' faith connects to my family's story because of my mom. My upbringing was a father and mother sharing and living out their faith in the Lord. My grandparents' legacy is not wealth by the world's standards. They don't have land worth millions of dollars. No. They have something much more important. Their intergenerational faith continues to their great-grandchildren.

We are familiar with the words of Peter in Acts 2:38, and God's answer to the question, "What shall we do?" Have you noticed what Peter said after his words regarding repenting and being baptized? "For the promise is to you and your children, and to all who are afar off, as many as the Lord our God will call." (Acts 2:39) Peter spoke about the importance of the home and intergenerational faith. The promise of salvation is to you and your children. The gospel is to be shared, and there is no closer group than your family. My story is no different than so many others. Someone shared their faith, and it became the foundation for generations of families to come. Can you remember or do you know the first person who became a Christian in your family? We conclude our thoughts with "Family Time" by ensuring our faith is passed to the next generation.

In Him,

Josh Barnett
